Impressions

In the next few years, the new “Messe City Köln” is going to be implemented in the immediate vicinity to the “Köln Messe/Deutz” railway station, and thus in an exposed location in Cologne’s city fabric. The differentiated, vertical structures as well as the material quality and colouring of the façades of the adjoining historic trade fair halls and “Rheinhallen” are the starting point of the superordinate design concept: the new “Messe City Köln” is thus strongly “anchored” at this location.
